Enrollment Nears Predicted Total

A total of 6,653 registration booklets was turned in by noon yesterday, according to figures compiled by the Accounting office.

Registration of limited students during the remainder of the week plus yesterday afternoon's total is expected to bring the figure up to the anticipated 7,000, according to Glenn Guttormsen, accounting officer.

Guttormsen said that the 1000 increase already recorded over last year's autumn figures was expected by the registration and accounting offices.

The registration figure is 297 students under the 6950 total predicted last week by Dean of Students Joe H. West.

Only drop in comparison to registration for autumn quarter 1951 was in the Junior College. At noon yesterday 639 students, 27 of them veterans, were enrolled. At the same time last year a total of 743 students were enrolled.

A 204 increase in the state college registration was recorded by the accounting office. Veterans accounted for 584 of the 6014 paying students listed. The state veterans total was a decrease of 471 over last year's figures.

A registration of 4664 was recorded for the first day with 417 students enrolled in the junior college.

State Officials To Discuss JC Split

President John T. Wahlquist announced yesterday that three officials from the State Department of Education and Dr. Earle P. Crandall, San Jose Superintendent of Schools, will be on campus Oct. 3 to discuss the state college-junior college separation.

Dr. J. Burton Vasche, chief of the Division of State Colleges and a 1931 Spartan graduate, Dr. J. D. Conner, associate superintendent of the State Board of Education, and Dr. Joel Burkland, assistant chief of the Division of State Colleges will be the officials visiting from Sacramento.

Dean of Instruction Dr. Fred F. Harclerod also will attend the meeting, he said.

The separation of the two colleges was to start gradually this quarter and possibly be completed as soon as June, 1953.

Welcome, Spartans

Hi, Gang!

Students activities started out with a bang this year. Returning to campus, we found ourselves threatened by a proposal to extend parking meters even farther into the campus parking area.

The decisive action taken by over 2000 of us who petitioned the city council at its meeting Monday night resulted in a joint committee of city officials and representatives of the college. This committee will study the parking situation as it pertains to the campus.

Such a committee might well be a stepping stone to a new realm of better college-community co-operation.

During the summer, Chuck Adkins won the Olympic boxing championship. We're all glad to have success come to such a swell fellow and we're certainly grateful to the good name which Chuck has brought to our school.

I hope that everyone turns out for the rally tonight and chips in on that trailer house we're giving Chuck.

Let's see the rest of the year continue with the same bang-up activity we've seen so far. Let me remind you that you're all welcome to visit your student council meetings at 3:30 p.m. each Wednesday. And you're all urged to join your class councils and other campus activities. Don't forget to visit your ASB office in the Student Union.

—Tom Evans, ASB President.

Daily Will Resume Publication Friday

The Spartan Daily will not appear tomorrow, but will return Friday and every school day thereafter. Walt Roessing, fall quarter editor, announced today.

The Spartan Daily maintains its advertising and editorial offices in B93.

Adkins Will Be Honored Tonight

Tonight, the city of San Jose and the college will pay tribute with a parade and rally to the college's first Olympic champion, Chuck Adkins, who won the Olympic 139-pound boxing championship in Helsinki last summer.

The City Council proclaimed today "Chuck Adkins Day" in San Jose and authorized a parade co-sponsored by the Rally committee and the San Jose Chamber of Commerce.

The parade will begin at the Student Union and ends at the steps of City Hall, where Adkins will be officially greeted by Mayor Parker Hathaway, Councilman Robert Doerr and City Manager Anthony P. Hamann on behalf of the city.

The local newspapers are sponsoring a campaign to raise money to purchase a house trailer for Adkins and his wife, so that they may live in Spartan Trailer court.

Adkins' boxing activities this summer and during the spring, when he was participating in the Olympic tryouts, kept him from earning enough money to support his wife and himself while he is attending school this fall. Donations will be accepted at various places on campus today.

Chuck Wing, Rally committee chairman, requests that students meet at the Student Union and have their cars decorated with signs and gold and white crepe paper for the parade, which will start at 8 p.m. All students, whether or not they have cars, may participate in the parade to honor Adkins, Wing said.

Seniors May Make LaTorre Pic Dates

Seniors planning to graduate in December, March, June or August are requested to sign up for graduation photos at the booth in the Library arch today. Mrs. Delores Spurgeon, La Torre adviser said yesterday.

Senior photos will be taken beginning next Monday, and the college yearbook will be on sale at an early date.

Evans Speaks on Meters...

TOM EVANS, Associated Student Body president, explains the college's stand on the parking meter situation to members of the San Jose City council at Monday night's council meeting in the City Hall.

Council Delays Meter Decision

By ED JACOBOWSKY

The student-sponsored petition opposing installation of parking meters on portions of Fifth and Sixth streets met with success Monday night at a meeting of the San Jose City council.

The council voted to postpone definite action on the meters pending a report of a joint committee composed of representatives of the city, and student body, administration and faculty of the college. The report is due Dec. 1.

Parking Irks Spartan Pair

By JERRY BELCHER

Think you got problems?

Well, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lancaster, a Spartan couple, have a combination of problems, all of them delicate. To enumerate they are: 1. Children. 2. Baby sitters. 3. Parking.

The Lancasters live in Mayfair Heights. They go to school on Washington Square. They have three children. And no baby-sitter.

So, they figure this way, drive the kids to school, where the parents will alternate baby-sitting while one, or the other is attending classes. Fine... but from 9:30 to 10:30 MWF both parents have classes. So the call is out for a one-hour baby sitter.

But, even if a baby-sitter volunteers, there's parking. The Lancasters' first class is 9:30 a.m. and as any fool can plainly see, parking places at that time of the day are high impossible to find.

Their final solution goes something like this: A 7:30 Spartan, who leaves at 9:30, should contact the Lancasters. He is to reserve a parking spot, preferably on E. San Fernando street. The Lancasters figure that all the construction work on San Fernando will amuse the kids.

If anyone has uncrumbled all of this, and thinks he can help the Lancasters in the baby-sitting or parking departments, leave a note in the "L" box in the Student Union.

Student Council To Convene Today

Plans for fall quarter blood drive and a Campus Chest drive will get under way at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Student Union, according to Associated Student Body President Tom Evans.

At this initial meeting the Student council will appoint chairmen for the two drives and set dates on which they will occur.

Jerry Ball, past president of the Spartan Shields and a leader in the drive, presented to the council petitions bearing more than 2000 signatures opposing the meters.

Speaking on behalf of the students of the college, Tom Evans ASB president, explained the students' stand and proposed the joint committee to study the parking problem and find a solution which will be acceptable to all concerned.

He emphasized that it was his wish that the city and college work together. In answer to remarks by one councilman that the school had done nothing to help clear up the parking problem, Evans pointed out that the college owns lots, which had been cleared and made into parking lots by Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity.

During the discussion, Arthur Phillpott, city traffic analyst, emphasized that Dean of Men Stanley Benz, who had represented the college at the meetings which resulted in the decision to install meters, at all times voted against their installation.

Councilman Robert Doerr, who had been the sole opposition when the decision to install meters was made by the council, backed Evans on all points. He stated that the bond issue coming up in the November elections authorizing the development of off-street parking facilities in the city might be the answer to the city's problem.

No Physicals After Saturday

Saturday will be the last chance for students to take a "one appointment physical examination," according to Miss Margaret Twombly, Health and Hygiene department head.

All new students are required to take the examination and are urged to co-operate Saturday as extra help has been employed for the final scheduled day of examinations.

Already 2200 students have been examined as compared to 1800 last year at this time, stated Miss Twombly yesterday.

... While San Jose City Council Listens

MEMBERS OF THE San Jose City council listen to the arguments presented by Student Body President Tom Evans opposing the installation of parking meters near the campus. Seated in front of the

Everyone Likes A Winner

Early this month the college athletic officials announced a sharp reduction in football admission prices for the present season.

The admission fees for the games with Fresno State, Brigham Young and Pepperdine were set at $1.20, a fifty per cent slash, and the tariff for the Santa Clara encounter was dropped from $3 to $2.40 for the center sections and $1.20 for the end sections.

"Tiny" Hartranft, the college's physical education director, reportedly told the Bay Area press that the reason for this sudden slash was, "We know that the entertainment dollar is less available and we'd like to see if a low-price admission won't attract much larger crowds."

We think the sudden cut is a good break for the reliable Spartan follower but we don't expect any increase in the attendance figures. If the Spartans have a colorful, WINNING aggregation this fall, then we believe the fans might possibly converge upon Spartan stadium to see the locals play.

But if the Raiders lose in the same consistent style as last year, then we feel that the spectators will stay away from the local arena even if the prices are slashed in half again.

We still remember what Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, now president emeritus of the college, had to say late last year concerning Spartan grid attendance. He commented, "Our teams just don't attract a crowd. There just doesn't seem to be a logical explanation."

We hope that we're wrong and that the fans pour into the Spartan oval whether the Golden Raiders have a triumphant season or not. Only time can reveal the answer.

Debate Match With Cambridge Tops List of Forensics Meets

Included in the forensics program at the college this year are activities of interest and importance to students of many divergent interests and abilities, according to Dr. L. H. Mouat, director of forensics of the Speech and Drama department.

A debate match with Cambridge university tops the list of home functions.

As a member of the Northern California Forensic league, San Jose takes part in frequent debates, round table discussions and radio and television forums.

At the Western Speech association tournament in Denver, Colo., qualified students will have the opportunity to represent the college in debating, discussion, extemporaneous and impromptu speaking, oratory and oral interpretation.

A speaker's bureau will be organized to provide the community with speakers for special occasions, such as political and community campaigns. It is hoped that a Moot court will be formed, providing pre-legal students with the opportunity of participating in courtroom speech making.

Students interested in joining the forensics group should contact Dr. Mouat at his office, 165A, as soon as possible, so that scheduling can begin immediately.

College Grad Is I.A. Instructor

Mare Hansen, industrial arts major who was graduated from the college in 1950, now is serving on the faculty of the University of Michigan as an instructor in ceramics, according to Dr. Heber A. Setzin, head of the college Industrial Arts department.

After graduation here, Hansen attended Ohio University where he earned a Master's degree in ceramics.

Student Drama Club Schedules Movie Series

With the slogan of "good movies for less," the San Jose Players student drama group, will offer approximately seven films this quarter in the college Little Theater at special student body rates, reports Dave Woods, member of the group.

Announcement of titles, dates of showing and prices will be made in the near future, he added. Choice of the films will be made only on the basis of "whether or not they are good entertainment," Woods insisted.

New officers for the group were elected at the end of last quarter. They are: Lee Leidig, president; Rick Risso, vice-president; Cleo Cebulla, corresponding secretary; Cheri Brigham, recording secretary; Mrs. Angela Jackson, treasurer; and Ruth Dougherty and Jim Bernardi, co-business managers.

Faculty adviser is Miss Marie Carr, associate professor of speech.

Students Campaign As Part of Class

Political science majors may take an active part in the current presidential campaign and at the same time receive academic credit for it, Dr. Earl C. Campbell, associate professor of social science, announced today.

Students in the class, Social Science 199, will work with the local headquarters of the political party of their own choice. They will conduct public relations work, distribute campaign literature and other such activities.

All students must be upper division political science majors. From one to three units are given for the class. For further information, see Dean R. Cresap, assistant professor of social science, in his office, 254 S. Eighth street, Apt. 7.

Open House at 'Y'

The Student Y, on-campus YMCA and YWCA for college students, will hold an open house tonight in the Student Y building, 272 S. Seventh street, starting at 7:30 p.m., according to Donna Cuthbert, chairman.

Activities will include informal games, ping pong and community singing.

All students are invited to attend the evening of activities, Miss Cuthbert said.

Booklet Tells of Training Program

"Why San Jose State college graduates will fill your employee needs" is being explained to potential employers through the booklet, "There's a College Graduate For Your Business," distributed through the Public Relations office.

Copies of the pamphlets may be obtained in the Public Relations office, Room 13A.

The booklet is designed to give employers and students a description of the college curriculum and an outline of the college vocational scope.

Distribution is being handled by Lowell C. Pratt, public relations officer; Dr. Vernon A. Ouellette, placement officer, and Dr. Edward P. Shaw, head of the Industrial Relations Institute.

Natural Science Head Edits Textbook Series

Dr. Carl Duncan, chairman of the Division of Natural Science, returned Friday from a four-day conference in Chicago. Meeting with the editor of the Beckley Cardy Publishing company there, Dr. Duncan was technical adviser for a forthcoming series of science text books designed for elementary schools.

The San Jose State college professor was recommended for the trip on the basis of work he recently completed for the Scribner Publishing company. He edited their eight-volume series entitled "The Wonderland of Science," which now has been accepted for use in California elementary schools.

The most outstanding side-light of the trip was the return flight over the Rocky mountains, Dr. Duncan said.

"Quaking Aspen trees in autumn color, red patches of mountain maples and the interlacing of green pine firs was like a carpet fashioned by some great architect. I have never seen anything like it," he said.

During the seven-hour trip to Chicago by plane, he also had the opportunity to observe various methods of soil conservation.

He noted the strip-cropping on the great plains of the West, where wheat is the main crop; then, the contour tillage used in the hilly country of the western half of the corn and wheat belts.

Dr. Duncan pictured Chicago as a city of contrast; the contrast of the smoke-blackened exteriors of the buildings to their brightly-lighted and ultra-modern interiors.

During his stay he was taken on a field trip west of Chicago to the suburban town of Des Plaines, where he visited a hardwood forest preserve. The preserve is maintained by the state as a monument to the once-vast hardwood forest that existed in that area, he said.

Faculty Fairness Members Named

The faculty council recently named Dr. George Bruntz, professor of history and social science, and Professor Willard Schmidt, head of the police department, to represent them on the Fairness committee.

Professor Schmidt replaces Dr. Margaret Letzter, professor of speech, who retired last year.

The committee held its fall organizational meeting at a barbecue luncheon Saturday afternoon at the home of William E. Gould, associate professor of journalism.

Art Show Remains

An exhibit of 36 prints from the permanent collection of the college Library now is on display in the corridors of the Art building. The exhibit, which will be shown until Oct. 1, includes lithographs, etchings, serigraphs and wood engravings, most of them black and white and a few in color.

The artists represented are contemporary and include several Californians. Their prints range in treatment from the representative to the abstract.

Add New Films to Audio Visual Stock

One hundred and fifteen new motion pictures and several hundred film strips will be listed in the Audio-Visual Service center's catalog supplement to be distributed this week.

Dr. Richard B. Lewis, co-ordinator of audio-visual services, announced that the supplement will be issued to all faculty members and department heads. Copies will be available for students use in the Library and at the center, he said.

New office hours for the center will be 8:20 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

SJS Campus Acquires 'New Look'

SPARTAN DAILY 3
Wednesday, Sept. 24, 1952

Washington Square is acquiring a new look so rapidly these days Spartans have to look closely to find signs of the familiar campus of last quarter.

That "Grand Canyon" between the Student Union and the old San Jose High school is the site of the future Speech and Drama building.

The $1,262,366 edifice, designed to meet the particular needs of the college, will have a radio studio, laboratory, library, classrooms, offices and two auditoriums equipped with remote control switchboards and sound and inter-communication systems.

One auditorium will be for class use, while the other, designed to seat more than 500 persons, will be used for college presentations attended by the public.

The Music and Engineering buildings, which have been under construction for some time on that part of the campus east of S. Seventh street are expected to be completed by next quarter.

Outstanding feature of the Music building is the large concert hall with a seating capacity for 575 persons.

The $1,350,000 Engineering building designed to accommodate 600 students, will consist of three sections—offices and classrooms, an electrical wing and a main laboratory wing.

Radio Series Opens

"People and Problems," first in a series of radio programs written and directed by Robert I. Guy, assistant professor of speech in charge of the radio curriculum at the college, will be broadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m. over station KEEN.

Included on the transcribed program will be an interview with Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president of the college, as well as spot interviews with several students.

PART OF WASHINGTON Square's "New Look," the new Music building pictured above, is scheduled to be occupied sometime next quarter. The big building will contain a concert hall with a seating capacity of 575. Located just east of S. Seventh street, the building is but part of an extensive expansion program on campus. Other projects include the Engineering and Drama buildings.

Main Library, Reserve Book Room on Regular Hours Today

The Library will begin its regular hours today with the opening of the main building at 8 a.m. and the Reserve Book room at 7:30 a.m.

The Reference Room will be open for studying from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays. On Friday nights the room will close at 5:30 o'clock. Saturday hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The six departments of the main library will open at 8 a.m. on week days and 9 a.m. on Saturdays.

Students will be allowed to take bound periodicals and reference books out over night from 9 p.m. to 8:30 a.m., according to Miss Barbara Wood, circulation librarian.

Under new library rules students may request book renewal by telephone.

All junior college and limited students who have not purchased student body cards may obtain library cards from the circulation desk in the main library, Miss Woods said.

She explained that all music has been segregated from the book collection and shelved on the fourth deck of the stacks.

Current newspapers will be on file in the Reserve Book room this year, according to Miss Caroline Bailey, Reserve Book room librarian.

Prof Resigns Post After Full Year

Goodwin G. Peterson, assistant professor of engineering and industrial arts, has resigned from the college faculty to go into a private school venture, according to Dr. Heber Sotzin, head of the Industrial Arts department.

Mr. Peterson has been on the faculty five years.

He is interested in the ranch-type school for children, Dr. Sotzin said. The pupils remain at the school 24 hours a day under such a plan.

The past summer Mr. Peterson was director of childrens' camp in Big Basin State park, sponsored by the Society of Friends.

Teachers Meet On Campus for Science Confab

Several hundred elementary school instructors, supervisors and administrators from the northern California area will take over the campus Saturday.

Occasion will be a conference of the Elementary School Science association, hosted here by the college Natural Science department faculty, under the general chairmanship of Dr. Gertrude W. Cavins.

Purpose of the conference is to acquaint the elementary school instructors with latest techniques in the teaching of science.

The college's new president, Dr. John T. Wahlquist, will welcome the group, and the keynote speaker will be Dr. Frank Gillette, formerly of Stanford university and now associated with St. Mary's college.

Greeks Hold Open Houses

The six 11th street fraternities will hold open house tonight and the remaining five fraternities in the Inter-Fraternity council will open their doors to interested male students tomorrow night, according to Dave Woods, IFC publicity chairman.

Fraternities that will hold open house tonight, Delta Sigma Phi, Theta Chi, Delta Upsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Pi and Sigma Chi, are all located on 11th street between San Fernando and San Carlos streets.

Phi Sigma Kappa, 655 S. 2nd street; Sigma Nu, 646 S. 5th street; Pi Kappa Alpha, 343 E. Reed street; Kappa Alpha, 506 S. 9th street; and Lambda Chi Alpha, 69 S. 10th street will welcome male students Thursday, Woods said.

Local Draft Boards To Hit Bachelors; Will Avoid Drafting Married Students

A Selective Service headquarters bulletin released yesterday by Dean of Men Stanley C. Benz, indicates that local draft boards will "be less lenient" with unmarried students in the near future.

To avoid drafting married undergraduates the Selective Service has tightened requirements concerning unwed students. The carrying of a full time program plus the completion of 90 units each academic year is a "must" for the single student.

In addition to the bulletin's straight faced comment that students should "do well" academically, Dean Benz offered advice to those who receive notice of 1-A classification.

Urge December Grads To File Placement Office Applications

December graduates seeking full-time employment upon graduation, are urged to file their applications at the Placement office, Room 100, as soon as possible.

Dr. Vernon Ouellette, placement officer, pointed out that applicants with the most complete files have a better chance in obtaining jobs.

Two part-time teaching jobs in the Palo Alto area now are open to those who can qualify. Miss Doris K. Robinson, head of the college's teacher placement office, disclosed.

A credential is preferred, but not necessary for a person to apply for the positions, she said. One job calls for a teacher of high school English, only male applicants to be accepted, and the second for part-time junior high school teaching, open to both men and women.

Miss Robinson also announced that Los Angeles public schools have scheduled tests for elementary, kindergarten-primary and junior and senior high school positions.

Last date to file for the elementary and kindergarten-primary tests is Oct. 10. The tests will be given Oct. 25.

The high school tests will be given Nov. 1, with Oct. 17 the last date to file.

For further information inquire at the Placement office, Room 100 in the main building.

Lambda Chi Alpha Moves Into Tenth Street Home

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity has moved into a new home—the famous "Lavender House" at 69 South Tenth street.

The house came by its strange name because of the eccentricities of its former owner, a Mrs. Brock, who was known as the "Lavender Lady" because of her strange habit of dressing all in lavender, from huge lampshade-size hats, to purple shoes, and of decorating her house in a lavender motif.

Mrs. Brock's home on Tenth street was once a center of activity for the bluebloods of San Jose society, and she entertained people from all over the world there. The house was originally intended as a show-place and Mrs. Brock decorated it with expensive paintings, tapestries and stained glass windows from all over the world.

As she grew older, however, she grew more eccentric, and began dousing everything in the house in her favorite color, lavender, and overdecorating both inside the house and out. At one time there were thirteen stone fountains in and around the house, a tea house and greenhouse made entirely of lavender glass, and an aviary for parrots on the roof and countless weird painting and tapestries all over the house.

The house's present owner, Max Abbott, hauled 14 truck-loads of old books, paintings, fountains, etc., out of the house when he bought it. Mr. Abbott has completely redecorated the house, from the foundation up.

He has installed complete new plumbing and wiring, radiant heating throughout, new hardwood floors, has replastered the walls, eliminated some rooms and combined others to make the "Lavender House" a pleasant and comfortable place to live in.

The house will hold 24 men, according to Lambda Chi house-manager, Bob York. It has 15 rooms, and 4 baths, and a double garage in back which will be converted into a game room on the bottom and a chapter room on top.

WAA Leaders Help Plan for National Meet

Mae Stadler, president of the Women's Athletic association; Barbara Hoepner, sports manager of the group and Dr. Elizabeth Prange, WAA adviser, attended a planning meeting at Stanford university yesterday.

The three San Jose State athletic association representatives helped to plan for the National Conference of Athletic Federations of College Women.

The Women's Athletic association on campus is open to all women students. The first WAA meeting of the quarter will be held Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in the Organization room of the Women's gym, according to Miss Stadler. A time schedule for WAA sports will be made at this meeting, she said.

Sports offered by WAA are dancing, fencing, swimming, hockey, badminton and tennis. Five sports days with the University of California, Stanford university, San Francisco State college and Mills college have been scheduled by the association.

"All women students are urged to watch for posters in the Women's gym announcing the sport's schedule," she added.

Lowell Pratt Has New Grandson

Mr. Lowell Pratt, public relations director at the college, is sporting a proud look these days. His first grandson, Lowell Kenneth Gilbertson, was born Sept. 5 to his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Gilbertson of Hyattsville, Md.

The baby is named for his father and grandfather.

Little Lowell Kenneth has one sister, Karen, four-and-a-half years.

Riley Sisters Both Take 'Mrs.' Title

Barbara Jean Riley and her sister Joan both repeated vows at August weddings.

On Aug. 1, Barbara Jean Riley became the bride of William Cranch Ernst in the Trinity Episcopal Church of San Jose. The Reverend Mark Rifenbark officiated.

She wore a ballerina length, white rose point gown with blush pink jacket and carried pink roses. Her sister, Mrs. Joan Riley Casey, was maid of honor. She wore a pink ballerina length gown and carried gardenias. Best man was John Lamont of Palo Alto.

The ceremony, which was only for family and close friends, was followed by a reception at the Sainte Claire Hotel. The pair honeymooned in Capitola.

Barbara, a senior journalism major, will continue her schooling at State. Bill was an advertising major and graduated in 1951. He is now working on the Santa Clara Journal.

At a Reno ceremony Joan Maureen Riley was married to Mike Frank Casey on August 23, three weeks after her sister's wedding.

The bride wore a champagne-yellow imported linen dress with full-length matching coat. Attendants were Faith Herrschaft and John Paxton.

Record Crowd Attends Dance At S.J. Civic

Attendance records were broken at this year's fall quarter registration dance held Monday night in the civic auditorium. Over 3000 were present, with record turn-outs for both students and faculty.

At the faculty reception, Dr. John T. Wahlquist, new San Jose State president, met informally with many students and faculty members. Host and hostesses for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Benz, Miss Helen Dimmick and Mrs. Izetta Pritchard.

The singing of the Spartan hymn at the end of the dance was the beginning of a tradition which will be continued at future registration dances. Marilyn Lind, dance chairman, said.

A joint Co-Rec night with students from Stanford University will be held Nov. 6. Special activities at this event are open only to Spartans who have attended one previous Co-Rec meeting.

Daily Report on Spartan Athletics

Spartans To Meet Aztecs Saturday

After a fine showing against the powerful University of Colorado, although losing 20-14, the Spartan footballers ran through a full-scale scrimmage yesterday in preparation for the San Diego State Aztecs, which they meet Saturday night in San Diego.

Although the locals found themselves three touchdown underdogs against the powerful Buffs, they fought the Big Seven power on even terms throughout the game and came within a step of scoring an upset.

A fourth-quarter fumble on the one-yard line cancelled a certain touchdown which would have given the Spartans a tie, and if the conversion had been successful, a victory.

The Golden Raiders took an early lead in the game when Fullback Dick Stults ripped through a large hole in the line, and went 79 yards for the first touchdown. Stults gave the Buffs trouble all afternoon, picking up 177 yards in 22 carries.

Spartan Quarterback Lynn Apalanp drew praise from football experts in the Boulder area. The all-coast candidate completed nine out of 19 passes for 164 yards without an interception, even though the Colorado defense was stacked to stop his passing.

Several Spartans came up with injuries but none are expected to be too serious. Tom Yagi, sophomore center who did a fine job in his first varsity game, suffered a sprained knee which may keep him out of the San Diego game.

Guard Eddie Salvadalena came out with a shoulder separation, and Syd Manning a sprained ankle. Halfbacks Bill Walker and Gene Goldberg suffered slight head injuries and End Bob Amaral came out with a black eye, but all these men are expected to play Saturday.

San Diego State will remain a question mark until the game, as they open their season against the Spartans. The Aztecs roared through their schedule last year without a defeat. They finished their season with one tie, that against a good Arizona State, at Tempe eleven.

The report off the Montezuma Mesa campus states that a large number of regulars from last year's team were lost but that the Aztecs have picked up some good junior college men and their usual quota of players from the Navy and Marines in that area.

San Diego papers are plugging a new halfback from the Chicago area, Tom Sharkey.

Golden Raiders' Football Schedule

Sept. 20—U. of Colorado at Boulder, Colorado won, 20-14.

Sept. 27—San Diego State at San Diego.

Nov. 1—Stanford at Stanford.

Nov. 7—Brigham Young at Spartan Stadium.

Nov. 14—Pepperdine at Spartan Stadium.

Nov. 22—Open.

SPARTAN OPPONENTS will be seeing much of Bill Walker, the largest and swiftest of this year's Gold and White halfbacks. After showing great potential in his soph year he dropped out of school last season and is now back to take up where he left off.

Sparta Mentors ... Two Greats

Fifteen different coaches have handled San Jose State teams since the Spartans started football in 1898. These include two of the great grid coaches of all time, Fielding Yost, who served in advisory capacity in 1899, and Glenn S. (Pop) Warner, who was advisory coach in 1939 and 1940.

Cuffe Greet Frosh Squad Of Sixty-Eight

Sixty-eight gridders turned out for the first gathering of the frosh football squad yesterday afternoon. Coach Tom Cuffe and assistants Gibby Mendonsa and Archie Chagonjian went through a chalk talk and made plans for the opening of practice today.

Cuffe announced that he has tentatively scheduled a scrimmage with the rugged Moffett Field Flyers sometime before the Spartababe's opener against College of Pacific, Oct. 17.

Among the top prospects on Cuffe's signup list were Jim Baldocchi and Don Bertando, two standout Bellarmine prep backs; Bob Anderson, a big tackle from Redwood City's Sequoia high school and Pat Hiram, a fleet-footed halfback hope from Hawaii.

Another outstanding duo that signed up yesterday was Don Cady and Vince Emma, defensive stalwarts through three years of undefeated league play at Palo Alto high school.

Parade To Honor Spartans' Adkins

Charles (Chuck) Adkins, Spartan's Olympic boxing champ, returns to his bout with books today following his fistic triumph in Helsinki this summer.

The Negro ace will be honored tonight with a parade at 8 o'clock. Numerous awards will be presented to him by the Rally committee and the local Chamber of Commerce, according to Chuck Wing, chairman of the Rally committee.

Future Career Uncertain

Adkins' college boxing future may be affected by the new Pacific Coast Conference ruling that makes a fighter ineligible if he has had any bouts outside a high school, or college ring, before reaching the age of 18. Adkins fought several bouts at the age of 17 under the auspices of the AAU.

The light-welterweight nearly missed his chances of winning the first and only Olympic gold medal ever won by a Spartan when he was beaten in the Olympic trials in Kansas City, Mo.

CHUCK ADKINS
... Olympic Champ

Adkins said later that he just couldn't get everything working together that night.

Beats Reynolds

When the Olympic coaches decided to hold trials at Helsinki to determine who should hold down the 139 pound division, Chuck took command of the situation and whipped the first place winner, Joseph Reynolds of St. Louis.

Judges from Canada, Ireland and England decided that Adkins was the man to represent the United States.

With four bouts under his belt Adkins proved that he was no haphazard choice as he outpunched Russia's Viktor Mednov to add to America's gold medals.

"I'll do it or they'll have to carry me out," Adkins was quoted as saying as he entered the ring before the crucial bout.

Polish Monkey Business

Although ringsiders claimed that Adkins outpunched the Russian all the way, one judge, J. Neuding of Poland, scored the battle even at 58-58.

Neuding had been previously removed as a judge for "making his own rule," but was again allowed to judge when he promised that there would be no more monkey business.

Two other judges, one a Belgian and the other a Frenchman, scored Adkins 60-55 and 60-57 respectively.

U.S. Boxing Coach Pete Mello wondered, "What held that Mednov up?"

Humble and Grateful

After the bout Mednov stopped by the American dressing room door and commented, "He good, very good."

Chuck took a slightly different view. "I'm humble and grateful," he said. God has been good to me."

Local Golfers In Lead for State Crown

San Jose State is being well represented by both past and present stars at the 41st California Amateur Golf Championships being played this week down on the Monterey peninsula.

Most impressive performance turned in during the first day of play Monday was a sparkling four-under-par 68 by former Spartan star Jack Bariteau. Bariteau, who was number one man for the college in 1940 and 1941, went out in 34 and came back in 34 to make him favorite for the two-day medal play.

Jack's younger brother, Eli, had difficulty in solving the tricky 6305 yard Cypress Point links, shooting a mediocre 80 and all but eliminated himself from a chance to be among the top 64 qualifiers for match play.

Eli won the state title in 1948. He paced the college team that won the National Collegiate diadem that year. He and Jack are partners in the laundry business here.

Defending champion Ken Venturi, now a senior at the college and top man for Walt McPherson's divotmen the past two years, remained in contention for medalist honors by carding a par 72.

The older Bariteau shot seven birdies on his masterful eighteen hole jaunt. He bogied Cypress' renowned "ocean hole," the sixteenth, with play-it-safe tactics. With a pea soup fog hanging over the course Bariteau decided to go around rather than shoot over the water.

Medal play concluded yesterday with the golfers shifting between Pebble Beach and Cypress Point.

Two other former Spartans, Ward Keeley and Leo Cheim, both were out of the running after the first day's fire. Keeley was the number two man behind Jack Bariteau in pre-war days.

Bronzan Gives Prime Reason For Buff Loss

Coach Bob Bronzan, addressing the Spar-Tens, local boosters club for the Spartans, yesterday morning emphasized his statement made following the Colorado game that he and his coaching staff are satisfied with everything but the score in their 20-14 loss to the Buffaloes.

BOB BRONZAN

"Our seniors lived up to expectations and our sophomores and other new men were better than we had expected. Despite the fact that victory would have been ours if one of several breaks had gone in our favor instead of the other direction, one of the things that hurt us most was due to a factor in our preparation," said Coach Bronzan.

"With our small squad, which now numbers only 42, we could not muster much of a team to run Colorado plays against our defense. If we had had a junior varsity to learn and operate a single wing offense, our boys would have been able to adept themselves better to a formation that many of them have never even seen.

Coach Bronzan emphasized that press experts and visiting coaches were extravagant in their praise for the Spartans.

He said that one close follower of Colorado football said that Lynn Alplanalp, End Bob Amaral, who was captain for this game, and Fullback Dick Stults were three of the best players ever seen in that stadium.

SPARTAN DAILY 7

... Press Box Chatter ...

By BILL TUNNELL

There are eight more games on the Spartan football schedule and to listen to any of the Golden Raiders talk would lead one to believe that they expect to win eight games this season. Rumor has it that if they perform the way they did against powerful Colorado, even mighty Stanford may find itself on the short end of the score after meeting the locals.

The Spartan cause will be aided by some new additions who turned in fine performances against the Buffaloes. Notable among these was Joe Muldowney, a junior transfer from Long Beach City college. Muldowney played most of the game and showed fine tackling techniques and alert defensive play. Another new star on defense, who showed well last Saturday, was John Hamber. He was one of the very good reasons why Colorado failed to gain through the center of the Spartan line.

With most of Coach Bronzan's scrimmage plays calling for his guards to pull out of the line and lead interference for the ball carriers, he needs some fast guards. He has just that in Dale Summers and Clarence Orr, two of the swiftest guards on the coast. They also pack a punch as both are fairly heavy, Summers at 204 and Orr at 187. Both turned in exceptional performances against Colorado.

The Buffaloes' main weapon against the Golden Raiders was their All-American candidate at the tailback position, Carroll Hardy. Hardy carries 190 pounds at great speed. According to the local gridders, the only reason they had the success they did in stopping him was the very exceptional scouting job turned in by Coach Bronzan and his staff. They knew where Hardy was going when the play broke but he still was hard to bring down.

The spirit that has been shown in scrimmage this week indicates that the Spartans weren't let down by the loss to one of the top teams in the country. They wanted it known that this wasn't just another loss, but that even in defeat THAT had a kind of victory.

When the question was asked, "How do you think you will fare against San Diego State Saturday night?" one of the players commented that he couldn't say but that most of the guys were pretty hungry for some scoring. San Diego went undefeated last season but probably will be underdogs to the Spartans.

Mumby Replaces Father As Spartan Wrestling Mentor

Hugh Mumby, former University of California star grappler, will handle the coaching chores of the college wrestling teams this year, replacing his father, Ted Mumby.

The elder Mumby, after six years of directing wrestling activities here, has retired to raise chinchillas in Los Gatos. He's also teaching a course in that trade at Los Gatos high school.

Hugh comes to the college with three years experience as assistant wrestling coach at Cal. As a Cal matman he twice captured Pacific Coast Collegiate championships, once in the 175 pound division and again in the 191 pound class.
